

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, JULY 14, 1883.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN CITY AND COUNTY

Every day for the last ten days boats have been passing this point.

The City of Frankfort took another large excursion up the river last night.

Farmers' Bank stock sold in Lexington, on Monday, for $104 75 per share, ex dividend.

Several of our correspondent's letters are unavoidably crowded out of this issue, but will appear next week.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church cleared forty-five dollars from their social at Mr. Jas. M. Todd's Tuesday evening.

Miss Minnie Brown, of Scott county, cousin of Mr. Z. T. Thomasson, of this city, died at her home near White Sulphur, Tuesday night, of consumption.

Mr. J. J. Quin has purchased from Mr. L. A. Thomas the new brick cottage on the corner of Broadway street and Long Lane alley, for fifteen hundred dollars.

The subject of Elder George Darsie's sermon at the Christian Church to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock, will be "The Gambling spirit of the Age." All are invited.

The temperance people of Georgetown are hard at work in the interest of the local option question, which will be submitted to a vote of the people at the August election.

There will be a moonlight fete given at the residence of Mr. Frank Wilson, in the Woodlake neighborhood, on Wednesday night, July 18th, for the benefit of Providence Baptist Church.

A little daughter of Mr. Andrew Salender, of this city, received the premium offered at the Academy at White Sulphur for the best specimen of embroidery. She is only twelve years of age, but the piece of work was beautifully executed.

The ladies of the Episcopal Church will give a social for the benefit of the Church at the residence of Mr. Jas. W. Heffner on Tuesday evening next. Tees and all the delicacies of the season will be on hand, and the charges will be very reasonable.

Col. R. P. Pepper's fine trotting mare Catchfly has started in five races this season and has won everyone of them. She and Code are both in Chicago now, and the latter will start in a race there on Monday and the former will trot on Wednesday.

The Colored Teachers' Association of this State met at St. John's A. M. E. Church in this city Wednesday morning and continued in session until Thursday evening. Twenty-five or thirty delegates were in attendance, and the meeting was an interesting and profitable one.

The Public Building for Frankfort is again to be found low down on the "Colander," notwithstanding this, the 7th District has paid into the National Treasury $17,936, 814 35 since 1867 to 30 June, 1881. There seems to be no justice in Washington for old Kentucky.

A shooting match between four gentlemen of this city came off at Spring Hill Tuesday afternoon, at clay pigeons, 25 pigeons each, seventeen yards rise, one barrel, and the following is the score:

Geo. F. Berry, 19 out of 25; Dud. Hackney, 17; Thos. Rodman, jr., 21; Z. T. Thomasson, 23.

The publication of the Commonwealth, both daily and weekly, in this city, was discontinued yesterday, and Messrs. J. Price Williams and Frank Morse, former employees of that office, issued the first number of the Daily Enquirer. While we regret to lose the former, with the editors of which our relations have been of the most pleasant character, we welcome the new daily and wish the young men who have undertaken its publication the greatest success.

It is desired that all survivors of the 9th Kentucky Confederate Cavalry send their names and addresses to the late Adjutant of the regiment, Dr. John A. Lewis, at Georgetown, in order that a complete muster roll may be made up before the reunion of Morgan's Men at Lexington on the 24th. There are a number of the members of the regiment residing in this county, and if they have not already done so they should write Dr. Lewis at once, as the time is getting short.

Notice to Teachers.

All persons desiring to become teachers in the public schools of Franklin county, and who have not obtained certificates of qualification, will please come before the Board in my office in Frankfort, on the 2d and 4th Saturdays in July.

Messrs. I. Dahlheimer & Co. are still selling their stock of fine jewelry and plated ware at auction, in the room in Odd Fellows' Temple formerly occupied by the Adams Express Company. Prices have been remarkably low and everything put up has been sold. Great bargains have been secured by those who have attended. Sales every morning at 10 and evening at 8 o'clock. There are no by-bids and the second bid secures a sale.

A Telegrapher Dead.

[Special to Louisville Commercial.] WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9th.—John E. Clarke, one of the oldest and most favorably known telegraphers in the country, died this morning of nervous exhaustion at Atlantic City, N. J., whither he had gone hoping to regain his health. His remains will be brought to Washington and interred in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Clarke was born in Frankfort. He went to Wheeling, West Virginia, when a small boy and while there at the early age of 15 years he learned the art of telegraphing. Since that time he has filled important positions in the various cities throughout the United States, Canada and Nova Scotia in the employment of the various telegraph companies. He was a good operator and was of a warm and genial nature and was greatly admired and loved by the telegraph fraternity.

"Requiescat in pace."

Supervising Architect Hill wrote Col. W. H. Murray, of this city, under date of the 7th of this month, that he had been prevented from commencing the work on the Government Building in this city on account of the investigation of charges that have been preferred against him, and that he will not be able to give his attention to it until the investigation is concluded. It strikes us as a little strange that so important a matter should be allowed to await the pleasure of one man.

Two Presidents have been assassinated, and the country thrown into a fever of excitement, but the business of the Government went on just the same as if nothing had ever happened, and here is one man, who thinks that because charges have been preferred against him, everything must stop to allow him to attend to them. If Mr. Hill cannot attend to his duties and be investigated at the same time, he should get out of the way for some one who can.

The horse attached to the delivery wagon of Messrs. Gray & Rodman was left standing in the street at the corner of Shelby and Second streets, Tuesday morning, while the driver went into the grocery of Mr. J. W. Johnson, when a little boy riding a bicycle passed by and frightened the horse so that it ran away. It ran down Second to Bridge and dashed into the bridge at full speed. Mrs. Raleigh D. Armstrong, of Bridgeport, was crossing the bridge alone in a buggy at the time, and Mrs. Z. T. Thomasson, of this city, was just in front of her on horseback. As soon as both ladies realized their danger they put their horses at full speed and endeavored to get out of the bridge before the horse and wagon reached them. Mrs. Thomasson was successful in getting out of the way, but just after Mrs. Armstrong reached the north end of the bridge the frightened animal dashed by her, one of the wheels of the wagon catching the hind wheel of her buggy, jerking the vehicle completely around and upsetting it. She was thrown out, and under the buggy, her ear cut and her face bruised, but aside from that she escaped injury. Antony Williams, colored, who was working a short distance away, ran to her assistance and he, with Mr. Dryfuss' assistance, succeeded in preventing her being injured by her own horse.

The runaway continued on down St. Clair street and was stopped in front of the Murray building by Mr. Sam. Harris' shepherd dog, Beauty, assisted by, Officer Stephens and several other gentlemen.

Miss Mattie Todd, who has been visiting in St. Louis for the last ten months, returned home Thursday morning, accompanied by Misses Ruby Turnbull and Julia Shelby, two charming young ladies of that city.

Our Sunday-school has been reorganized with the following officers: Col. D. L. Sublett, Superintendent; Chas. L. McKee Sec'y; J. W. Wright, Treasurer. There has been an average attendance the past three Sundays of 61, which is by far the best beginning we have ever had. Everyone seems pleased with Col. Sublett's way of conducting a Sabbath-school which is different from what we have been used to. Come and see for yourselves, 4 o'clock sharp. Come.
